5. Ins. by s. 4, ibid. (w.e.f. 30-12-2008).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The salary and allowances and other facilities admissible to the Vice-President, being also the Chairman of the Council of States, are governed by the Salary and Allowances of Officers of Parliament Act, 1953. The said Act does not contain any provision for payment of pension to a retired Vice-President.

2. Like President, who is the Head of the State, the Vice-President also holds a high office and is a high dignitary. It is, therefore, felt that when a retired President is allowed a pension and other privileges, it would be just and proper that a retired Vice-President also gets suitable pension and other privileges, so that after demitting the office he is able to maintain a reasonable standard of life befitting the high office held by him.

3. This Bill, inter alia, seeks to provide for--

(a) payment of pension;

(b) use of a furnished residence (including its maintenance) without payment of rent as admissible to a Union Deputy Minister;

(c) use of a telephone facility at the residence, as admissible to a Member of Parliament;

(d) secretarial staff; and office expenses not exceeding rupees six thousand per annum;

(e) free medical attendance and treatment to a retired Vice-President on the same conditions as admissible to a retired President;

(f) free medical attendance and treatment to the spouse and minor children of a retired Vice-President on the same conditions as is admissible to the spouse and children of a retired President: and

(g) travelling facilities anywhere in India for himself-and his spouse by the executive class by air, and the highest class by rail.

4. The Bill seeks to achieve the above object.
