(ii) to make equitable disposition of property which devolves by escheat;

(iii) to take charge of the property to which the claim of the Government has been asserted and to arrange for its care and maintenance during the period when it is in their custody.

CHAPTER-III DECLARATION OF PROPERTY AS AN ESCHEAT OR A Bona Vacantia AND ITS DISPOSAL

Inquiry relating to escheat or bona vacantia by local officer.

7. Whenever the local officer receives information from any source that any property of the nature of an escheat or a bona vacantia is situated or lying within his jurisdiction, he shall cause an inquiry to be made in respect thereof.

Local officer to institute a suit for recovery of possession of escheat or bona vacantia when the person in possession resists.

8. (1) Where, as a result of the inquiry under section 7, the local officer is satisfied that the property of the nature of an escheat or a bona vacantia is in the possession of a person who has no authority to claim it and if such person resists to surrender such possession on demand, the local officer may, after obtaining the sanction of the competent authority, institute a suit in a court for declaration of the Government's right to the property and for recovery of possession of such property.

(2) Where the court has declared that the property is an escheat or a bona vacantia, the local officer shall obtain the possession thereof through the court and manage it or dispose it of in such manner as may be prescribed.

Local officer to take into custody and to arrange for care and maintenance of property which is not in the possession of any person or its possession is surrendered.

9. Where the property of the nature of an escheat or a bona vacantia is not in the possession of any person or where the person in possession surrenders such possession when demanded, the local officer shall take the property into his custody and arrange for its care and maintenance until the claim is settled under section 11.

10. (1) The local officer shall prepare on the site and in the presence of not less than five respectable persons of the locality, an inventory of the property taken into his custody under section 9 and forthwith send a report in the prescribed form to the competent authority, together with a copy of the inventory.

Disposal by local officer of property in certain cases.

(2) Where such property is an immovable property, the leasehold, right thereof shall be sold by public auction by such revenue authority and after following such procedure as may be prescribed and the sale proceeds shall be held in deposit, after deducting therefrom the expenses of the sale.

(3) (a) Where the property taken into custody under section 9, or any part thereof is perishable or involves considerable expenditure for its protection or for any other reason the immediate sale thereof is considered expedient by the local officer, he may for reasons to be recorded in writing, order the disposal of the property or part thereof by public auction in the manner prescribed, the sale proceeds being held in deposit, after deducting therefrom the expenses of the sale.

(b) Where the property taken into custody under section 9 is movable property of the value not exceeding fifty rupees, the local officer shall cause it to be sold by public auction in the manner prescribed, and credit the sale proceeds thereof to the Government.

11. (1) As soon as may be after the property is taken into his custody under section 9, the local officer shall publish a notice in such manner as may be prescribed, calling upon the persons who may have any claim to such property to prefer their claims to such property in the prescribed form within three months from the date of publication of the notice.

Procedure for declaring property to be escheat or bona vacantia

(2) If no claim is preferred within the said period of three months, the local officer shall declare the property in respect of which the notice is published under sub-section (1) to be an escheat or a bona vacantia, as the case may be, and dispose it of in such manner as may be prescribed.

(3) (a) If any person prefers a claim within the said period of three months, the local officer shall refer the claim to the court for its decision as to whether or not the person making the claim is entitled to the property; and the court shall, after giving a notice to the local officer and to the claimant, decide the reference, as if it were a suit;

(b) Where the court decides that the property taken into custody under section 9 or any part thereof rightfully belongs to the claimant, the local officer shall deliver the same to him; and where the court decides that it does not belong to the claimant' the court shall declare the property to be an escheat or a bona vacantia as the case may be.

Publication of declaration.

12. As soon as a declaration is made by the local officer under sub-section (2) of section 11 or by the court under clause (b) of sub-section (3) of that section, the local officer shall publish a notification thereof in the <sup>4</sup>Telangana Gazette and in a local newspaper of the district where the property is situated or lies, and shall also cause an announcement of the declaration to be made by beat of drum in the village in which the property is situated or lies.

Immovable property escheated to Government not to be sold until twelve years after such escheat.

13. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, no immovable property which is declared escheat or bona vacantia shall ordinarily be alienated by sale or grant until it has been in the possession of the Government for twelve years.
